Ritchie's Liquid Compass!
THE Ritchie Compass which has been the standard Compass in the navy for upwards of four years, and also in extensive use in the merchant service, should be used on every class of vessels where a compass is to be depended on. It combines all the qualities of a perfect instrument. To extreme sensitiveness and perfect steadiness is added a strength and durability which prevents them from getting out of order like other compasses. The reason for this is apparent to any one upon examination. A single trial of this compass has always resulted in its adoption and the rejection of every other kind.
EVERY COMPASS WARRANTED.

Despatches to the Evening Times.

The Fenian Troubles in Canada—"President" Roberts about to Attempt Another Invasion—Gov. Swann Removes the Baltimore Commissioners—He will Call on the President for Troops if Necessary—Excitement in Baltimore—The old Commissioners will not obey the Governor's Mandate

NEW YORK, Nov. 1.

An Ottawa despatch says—

A Cabinet council will be held to-day on the exciting question in reference to the execution of the condemned Fenians. Prominent parties denounce leniency.

A Troy, N. Y., despatch says—

An order issued by President Roberts, looking to an early invasion of Canada by the Fenians, will soon be promulgated.

The Fenian circles are holding day and night sessions. A regiment is in rapid formation.

Mrs Major Gen. Wool was struck with paralysis at her residence in Troy, N. Y., yesterday.

A despatch from New Orleans says:

A number of radicals have left New Orleans in expectation of a riot to-day.

WORCESTER, Nov. 1.

C. & J. R. Pierce's nail and heel plate factory, at Milford, Mass., was wholly consumed by fire this morning. A part of the building was occupied by Seiley & Co's needle works. The fire soon communicated to the Boston & Worcester railroad freight house, which was destroyed with all its contents. It is supposed to have been the work of an incendiary. C. & J. R. Pierce's loss is $40,000. Insured $15,000. Seiley & Co's loss is not known. The Boston & Worcester railroad loss is estimated at $8000.

NEWARK, Nov. 1.

Senator Wright died at 9 o'clock this morning.

BALTIMORE, Nov. 1.

Gov. Swann has removed the Commissioners. He will call on the President for troops if necessary.

Sheriff Thompson of Baltimore arrived here this morning for the purpose of taking up the commissions of the new officers.—Mr Latrobe goes to Washington by the afternoon train.

Great excitement prevails in the streets of this city—Baltimore—over the removal of the Police Commissioners by Governor Swann.

NEWARK, Nov. 1.

The Merchants Insurance office of this city was robbed last night of $60,000 in Government bonds. The robbery was effected by picking the lock of the safe.

BALTIMORE, Nov. 1.

The American has received the following special despatch from Annapolis—

Annapolis, Nov. 1.

The Governor has decided to remove the Commissioners. The decision is very bitter against them. He says the registry list of 1866 should have been used, and that the Judges of election were most partizan in their character, and were guilty of gross official misconduct. He would call upon the United States Government to uphold his authority if it should be necessary.

TORONTO, Nov. 1.

The trial of eight of the Fenian prisoners has been postponed until the second week in November to allow their counsel further time to procure evidence.

BALTIMORE, Nov. 1.

It is not yet ascertained who are the two commissioners appointed by Gov. Swann.—It is rumored that a new police force is already organized and will make their appearance in the streets during the course of the day. The old Police Commissioners have their full force out and will resist all demands of the new force for the surrender of the station houses, Marshal's office, &c.

Four hundred U. S. dismounted cavalry who arrived here yesterday to disembark for Texas, are now at Fort McHenry, and rumor says they will be retained here in case of an emergency.

The Baltimore American says it is reported that John T Ford of Ford's Theatre notoriety, and Capt. Horn of the 3d Ward, one of Gov. Swann's registers, have been selected for police commissioners, and ex-Marshal Van Nostrand, one of the witnesses of the prosecution, as the new Marshal.

A SINGER WHOSE NOTES ARE GOLDEN.—Patti is now worth $800,000 in gold; her father as much, approximately; and Maurice Strakosch, the making and the made of them, ought to be worth half a million. A sweet Shylock is Maurice in art, and I cannot forbear telling you the part he played in the salons of Rothschild. Patti, as you know, goes out to gentlemen's houses of nights to sing, and gets therefor, clever sums. At first, in the flush and heyday of her coming, she demanded, through Maurice, as much as 10,000 francs per night. She is now willing to sing for 5,000 francs (and once, I am sorry to say consented to appear with Theresa, the ballad woman.) Rothschild, on a certain night, not long ago, had it arranged with Maurice Strakosch that he should procure Patti at the banker's place, where she should sing two selections for $2000. The night came the guests were of the froth of Rocheforth; Patti surprised herself. When she had done there went up a great cry of encore. "Baron," said the ladies, "won't Mademoiselle Patti sing again?" "Certainly," said the banker, "Monsieur Strakosch, Miss Patti will repeat. N'est ce pas?" "The same?" said Maurice Strakosch, "the same all round?" The Baron, not observing the feel of money in Maurice's eyes, answered, "Yes the same," meaning the music. In consequence, Patti sung like lightning; the whole room rocked with her melody; it was a wonderful joy. But next day, Maurice Strakosch sent in a bill to the Rothschild at the rate of ten thousand francs for every two chansons. The banker paid it, but cured him of his infatuation, and he goes no longer to see Patti.—Paris Correspondence, to N. Y. World.

THE BOWDOINHAM BANK ROBBERS. A Bath correspondent of the Lewiston Journal, writing on the 27th, says of the Bowdoinham Bank robbers:—

The three prisoners were taken to Augusta jail, via Brunswick, this afternoon, in charge of Sheriff Millay. Bartlett and Simms were ironed together. Maguire was handcuffed. The jail at Augusta is probably the strongest and most secure in the State, but extra precaution will be required and used to secure their safety—precautions as well for the security of the prisoners from without as within.

Maguire's trial at Danbury, Conn., for alleged concernment in the Adams Express robbery, was to have begun last Wednesday. His case was then called, Maguire not answering of course, and his bail in the sum of $8000 declared forfeited.

Mrs. Simms, with an infant child, both elegantly dressed, left for Boston on the noon train. She is an Irish girl.

Fears are expressed by some that these alleged robbers will get bail—$150,000 in the aggregate, it being currently rumored that Simms alone is worth $200,000. How much truth there may be in their ability to do this, we know not, but they will not do it, knowing as they probably do, that as soon as they might be released on bail, a new warrant would be served on them for entering the house with deadly weapons and burglarious intent—on which warrants they might again be held, examined and bound over in sums exceeding those now hanging over them.—Thus by getting bail, they would merely sacrifice $150,000 and fail of gaining their liberty.

The trial which will occur, beginning the first Tuesday in April next, will, no doubt, adduce testimony concerning the bonds not now presented. Mr. Sargent says that he is possessed of all the evidence necessary in the case.

Henry Tallman, Esq., has been retained by the prisoners for their trial, but the defense will probably be conducted in the main by Recorder Smith, the very able criminal lawyer of New York city, where witnesses to prove an alibi or anything else can be manufactured to order.

THE FORMER BEDQUILT OF OUR CONTINENT. Agassiz comes to the conclusion that the continent of North America was at one time covered with ice a mile in thickness. The proof is that the source of the Alleghany range of mountains is glacier-worn on the very top, except a few points which are above the level of the icy mass. Mount Washington, for instance, is over 6 000 feet high, and the rough, unpolished surface of its summits just below the level at which glacier-marks come to an end, tells us that it lifted its head alone above the desolate waste of ice and snow. In this region, then the thickness of the sheet cannot have been much less than 6,000 feet, and this is in keeping with the same kind of evidence in other parts of the country; for, wherever the mountains are below 6,000 feet, the ice seems to have passed directly over them, while the few peaks rising on the height are left untouched.

The glacier, he argues, was God's great plow, and when the ice vanished from the land, it left it prepared for the hand of the husbandman. The hard surface of the rocks was ground to powder, the elements of the soil were mingled in fair proportions, granite was carried into the lime regions, lime was mingled with the more arid and unproductive regions, and a soil was prepared fit for the agricultural uses of man. There are evidences all over the polar regions to show that at one period the heat of the tropics extended all over the globe. The ice period is supposed to be long subsequent to this.

In consequence of the bad condition of the telegraph lines in Newfoundland, it is proposed by the Anglo-American Telegraph Company to lay cables from Trinity bay, or rather Placentia Bay, to Halifax and Boston. FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 2, 1866.

The November Elections.

On Tuesday next, November 6th, nearly all of the Northern States that have not yet chosen their members of Congress, will hold their annual elections. In the present Congress their delegations are as follows:

	Republican.	Democratic.
Massachusetts,	10
New York,	21	10
New Jersey,	2	3
Delaware,		1
Maryland,	3	2
Michigan,	6
Illinois,	11	3
Missouri,	7	2
Wisconsin,	6	1
Minnesota,	2
Kansas,	1
Nevada,	1
	69	22

Ninety-one members in all are thus to be chosen on Tuesday next—making with those heretofore elected 160 members, or 39 more than a majority of the full House. If the delegations from these States alone stand the same in the next Congress as in the present, there will be a clear Republican majority of six without the addition of another Republican member; but there are other Northern States to elect next spring and summer, which will probably bring the Republican majority up to at least 35 or 40, even if representatives are admitted from all the rebel States.

We speak upon the assumption that the States to elect next Tuesday will return on the whole about the same political delegations as the present. We may lose some members—but not enough to affect materially our majority. The probabilities are, that we shall, on the whole, retain the present great Republican majorities.

We do not think it worth while to make predictions as to any of the districts, which may be overthrown by the returns within a week. There is a fair chance of gaining one or two members in New Jersey, where the democrats are running double candidates,—and the same in New York, where, in the 2d, 4th, 5th, 6th and 8th, (all but one in the city, and all now represented by democrats, including Raymond,) there are from three to six candidates in each district. On the other hand the particular and unusual efforts made by the democrats and Johnson men to carry the State of New York—the hordes of new and illegal voters made by false naturalization papers—and the thousands of office-holders who, in that great and corrupt city, care for nothing but their bread and butter—will roll up a tremendous democratic majority, and may possibly over-balance the Republican majorities in the State. Heaven and earth (or rather the other place) will be moved by the copperheads and the Administration to carry the Empire State—a result which although not in the least affecting our great majority in Congress, would give Mr. Johnson a little more hope and new courage to continue his opposition to the general loyal sentiment of the North. The great battle of all these November elections is, indeed, to be fought in New York—and as our friends there do not claim more than 30,000 majority, we must regard the result for Governor as one not to be predicted with great certainty.

The Tribune, however, is confident that Mr. Fenton will be re-elected by an increase over the last year's majority of about 30,000. It says:

We have been all over the State, and have generally been assured by active republicans "Things look remarkably well in this county. We shall do better than last year here. We shall largely increase our vote and considerably increase our majority." Generally the meetings of our friends are large as well as spirited. In several Counties we hear that the naturalizations are in our favor, which is unusual. Everywhere a large majority of the young men who have come of age within the last year are Republicans. They have been anxiously studying the progress of the war for the Union, and they believe in "Hail Columbia" and the Stars and Stripes.

The aggregate vote will range from six hundred and fifty thousand upward—that is, from 75,000 to 100,000 higher than last year. Then, we had thirty thousand majority; now, we shall poll at least 50,000 more than then. To beat us, our adversaries must increase their vote at least 80,000.

Our friends expect to hold all they now have (the entire delegations) in Massachusetts, Michigan, Minnesota, Kansas and Nevada—and also hope to stand quite as well, if not better in Illinois and Wisconsin. In Massachusetts, the only question for years has been in the Boston districts, in consequence of the heavy Irish vote: but we have no doubt we shall elect both Mr. Twitchell (in place of Mr. Rice, declined,) and Mr. Hooper by handsome majorities, although we fear our friends are relying too much upon the majorities of two years ago, and neglecting the work. A strong democratic effort may cut us down to small figures there.

Maryland and Missouri are the only States upon which a confident opinion may not be expressed. In both the rebels are by law forbidden to vote. In both the President's friends are trying to evade the law. In Maryland we are to elect four out of five members if the Baltimore Police Commissioners are allowed to enforce the law. If they are removed and the rebel vote is counted, we shall elect only two. In Missouri, if only the legal vote is taken, we shall elect five of the Republican candidates with ease, and with proper effort shall certainly carry the other two republican districts, and possibly the Sixth, now represented by Van Horn.

In Pittsburg, Pa., a few days since a lady left her infant of three days old sleeping in her chamber while she proceeded to attend to some domestic duties in an adjoining room. Hearing a piercing scream from the direction of the chamber, she hastened to the side of the crib where she discovered to her horror a large rat leap from it and disappear in a closet. On examining the child she found that the rat had eaten the flesh entirely off three of the fingers of the right hand, rendering it necessary to amputate them.

THE EXPECTED METEORIC SHOWER.—The great meteoric shower of November 12th, 1833 (and which astronomers say has a period of about thirty-three years) is expected to re-appear about the middle of the present month, from the 12th to the 15th, and in greatest brilliancy after midnight.—Arago computes that no less than two hundred and forty thousand meteors were visible above the horizon of Boston, on the morning of the fourth of November, 1833. A similar display was seen by Humboldt at Cumana, South America, 1799. A comparison of the epochs of appearance of three great showers have led to the discovery that they are periodical, their returns being separated from each other by a third part of a century, or some multiple of this period, and are periodical appearances of one grand meteoric shower. Professor Newton of Yale College, who has devoted much time to the investigation of the periodic character of these showers, finds that a prodigious flight of meteors, the most imposing of its kind, will make its appearance, probably for the last time in this century, on the morning of the 13th or 14th of the present month.

Only thirteen of these great showers are recorded between the years 903 and 1833, such a rare phenomenon creating a deep interest among all classes of persons. Preparations to observe this sublime spectacle for scientific purposes, have already commenced in Europe.

It is conjectured that there is a belt of small asteroids, or fragments of a planet, revolving round the sun in an orbit between that of the earth and Mars, and that three times or more in each century the earth approaches so near these small bodies in its passage as to bring some of them within its atmosphere, when they take fire from the friction with the air, and shoot towards the earth's surface from her superior attraction. This theory, however, appears doubtful, from the fact that very few of the hundreds of thousands are known to strike anywhere upon our planet.

THE EVENING STAR DISASTER. Captain Mew, U. S. inspector of steamers, has concluded his investigation into the cause of the disaster to the Evening Star, and attributes it to her being short-handed. She was a strong and safe boat in every respect, and had her crew been of the proper number would probably have been kept afloat, or, if not, a full crew would have manned her boats, and in that way assisted to save many who were lost. The boats were large enough to carry all on board, but something more effective than ordinary boats is required to float a ship-load of men and women in a furious gale. A large number of cork jacket life-preservers were on board, but it seems they were not generally used. The passengers supposed them too cumbersome, and not very valuable, but all the persons who were saved in the boats owed their lives to these preservers.

CHURCH SACKED BY FENIANS. A Toronto despatch says that the Episcopal church at Brantford was entered by a party of Fenians immediately after the receipt of the news that Col. Lynch and Rev. J. McMahon were sentenced to be hanged. The windows were smashed and the pulpit demolished, while a party of men promenaded the streets cheering for President Roberts and Gen. Sweeney.

NEGRO TESTIMONY IN MARYLAND.—Judge Magruder, of the Maryland Circuit Court of Appeals, has decided that a negro cannot testify in a case where a white man is concerned. This decision will have the effect of overruling the decision of the district courts. In Calvert county there are no schools, all the colored children being held as apprentices, and the parents have no control over them. Numerous complaints continue to be made by parents who wish to recover children apprenticed illegally.

KILLED BY A BEE STING. A young lady residing in Lansing, Michigan, was stung on the forehead by a honey-bee in August last. The poison of the sting caused a severe swelling, and so prostrated her nervous system as to confine her to bed, and eventually caused her death on the 15th inst.

A CHOLERA SPECIFIC. During the prevalence of cholera at St. Louis the Board of Health of that city received the following liberal offer from a country town in Ohio. It may have been accepted perhaps, as we noticed the decline of the disease was very sudden:

"URBANNA, Champaign Co., O.,
August 23, 1866.

I understand by readin the papers that in St. Lewis the Cholera is bad sweepin off the inhabitance of your citty, it is emploiment for cofenmakers and grave-diggers it is money for them. I discover no certain remedy in all the medical Books, boath old and new works has any thing like a perminent cure for it. I can give one half of receipts that will cure and be a preventative to those that has not got it of takin of it. By two kinds of herbs and a root to make a decoction of, to bee taken a half tea cup of the tea at a time 4 times a day, and a powder of three different articals a tea-spoonful at a time 3 times a day, all would save two thirds at any rate from the cofenmakers and grave diggers, you have this for $1000 or you can have the full receipt of the other half for $1000 more that will cure 9 cases out of 10. I am a old practitioner boath in the old school and the now school and have been a good deal with the Indians."

A SLEEPING HOUSE. There is in Pekin a "House with Chicken Feathers," where houseless vagabonds may sleep for one mill (the tenth part of a cent) a night. In an immense hall the floor is covered two or three feet deep with chicken feathers. The customers are introduced into the hall and take the first place they can find; they disappear in the feathers as if they were in water. All ages and both sexes lie pell mell together. Over this downy bed hangs a canopy as large as the hall itself; the canopy is made of felt and is perforated with as many oval holes as the hall may contain sleepers. When the hour is struck for the closing of doors the canopy is lowered to the floor. Every sleeper hastens to thrust his head through a hole in order to breathe fresh air and escape being suffocated by the feathers. At the hour of rising a gong sounds, and each sleeper pulls his head out of the hole to avoid being strangled by the canopy, which is pulled up to the ceiling by blocks and pulleys. This secures the waking of the lodgers. They then go to the office and pay their mill for their night's lodging.

The Grand Secret.

The grand secret in medication is to help Nature. SUSTAIN and REGULATE—these are the Alpha and Omega of the only theory of cure that has common sense for its basis. If the nervous system is shattered, the muscles weak, and the mind, like the body, in a state of partial collapse—what is it best to do? Reason teaches us the answer

LAW!

CITIZENS OF BANGOR!!

I HAVE BEEN THE RECIPIENT OF MANY acts of kindness, and much sympathy at your hands. For all these favors you have my warmest gratitude, and the assurance that they will never be forgotten.

But having fully decided not to change my residence, let fortune deal with me as it may, but live and die a citizen of Bangor, devoting all my time and energies to the practice of my profession, one favor, and only one, I respectfully but earnestly ask of all who desire my happiness, prosperity, and complete triumph over as base a conspiracy as was ever formed to destroy the reputation and blight the hopes of a fellow being—and that is this—give me, and send me business—give me that, and I can take care of myself. Do all in your power to build up for me a permanent and lucrative business. All that is asked is an opportunity to take care of myself—or in other words, "enough to do."

Words of sympathy, when one is in trouble, cheer the heart, and give courage even in the darkest hour! But sympathy alone does not furnish us food and clothing, educate children, support dependent friends, pay for the preaching of the Gospel, nor enable one to contribute to the support of the various charitable enterprises of the day. Money is essential, indispensable to the discharge of all these public and private duties of citizenship. Give me business, and I will ask you to do nothing more for my reputation or pocket.

It may, I think, be regarded as a sufficient excuse, for making this unusual appeal, that the demands made upon me as a citizen cannot be met without a more liberal patronage. I may be excused also on the ground that it is very evident that many kind friends have not realized the necessity of this kind of aid, but have in many instances, thoughtlessly placed their business in the hands of my worst enemies.

Gentlemen, I am one of your number, and shall be. I can be respectable and successful, or otherwise, as you may choose to have me.

Benj. Kimball.

MATTERS IN MEXICO.

Highly Favorable Reports to the Republicans.

Affairs in Maryland.

An Abstract of Governor Swann's Decision.

High Ground Taken against the Commissioners.

They are Denounced for Misdemeanors and Usurpation.

Probable Future Course of the Police Commissioners.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 1.

The following important letter from Gen Escobedo was received to-day at the Mexican Legation Headquarters:

Army of North, Mexican Republic, Monterey, Oct. 15, 1866.

Our affairs here are progressing very favorably. The States of Neneva Leon, Tamaulipas and Coahuila are now entirely free from the presence of foreign foes, as are also the States of Sonora, Sinaloa and Chihuahua, and in each of them considerable forces are now being rapidly raised to expel once for all every foreign invader from the national territory. From this State the advance column is composed of 4000, well armed, mounted and equipped. They have already marched to operate against San Luis Potosi, and 1200 have been sent to co-operate with the column from the State of Zacatecas, under the command of Gen Auguz in the movement against Durango, from which the best results are expected.

The Third Assistant Postmaster General has just completed arrangements for the re-[illegible] of self ruling stamps, which will commence immediately. Circulars notifying the public of the fact will be sent to all offices throughout the United States.

The improvement which this popular innovation effected in the legibility of superscriptions and post marks upon letters while was in use, a few years ago, has encouraged its re-introduction.

Despatches were received at the Navy Department this morning from Acting Rear Admiral Bell, commanding the East India squadron, dated Simonoski, Japan, July 31. The Hartford (the flag-ship of the squadron) was at Nagasaki on the 13th of July, and Admiral Bell exchanged visits with the Governor, an officer of the Tycoon, who seemed somewhat anxious as to the motives her arrival at that time, in consequence the arrival in port of the Hartford and British Vice Admiral, King, with the Princess Royal, 73 guns, and four others—[illegible] of his squadron; and also of Sir Harry Parke, the British Minister at Japan, who, it is understood, was granted several interviews, in that port, with the Tycoon.

Previous to the departure of the flag-ship Hartford from the port of Nagasaki, the Governor of that city informed for[illegible] consuls that the Tycoon is at war with Prince of Nagato, Lord of Semonoseki, and requested that no men of war or merchant vessels should pass through these straits and inland sea.

Admiral Bell had previously determined to [illegible] that route, and calling to mind the incident that was offered to the Wyoming, the American man of war that displayed the [illegible] there three years ago, and feeling assured also that it would become serious interference to hold commerce with Hioga situated within the inland sea and Pacific line steamers shortly to be started to run for [illegible], if that important pass was allowed to be closed without the consent of our Minister, he decided to go through the straits; but in order to quiet any uneasiness the Governor might entertain about it, sent him word he would hold no intercourse with the rebellious Prince of Nagato.

A despatch has been received at the Navy Department, from Rear Admiral Pearson, commanding the South Pacific Squadron, on board the U. S. Steamer Powhattan, at Callao, Peru, under date of Oct. 13, and reports all well.

The President has directed the issue of warrants for the pardon of W. H. McCarn, John S Kelley, who were convicted upon joint indictment, at the December term, [illegible] of the U S District Court for the Southern District of New York, of defrauding the Government, and sentenced to imprisonment—the former for 18 months and the latter one year.

The work of removing the archives and documents of the State Department to the Protestant Orphan Asylum building on 14th st. which has been leased by Government for five years, was commenced to-day preparatory to tearing down the old State Department building, to make room for the Treasury extension.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 1.

In the case of Charles Duane, indicted for the murder of Wm. C Ross, the jury rendered a verdict of Not Guilty, whereupon a [illegible] of nolle prosequi was entered in the case of John Duane, indicted as accessory to the murder.

The bark Fanny, from Arctic Ocean, brings 600 bbls of whale oil and 150 bbls sperm and 15,0000 lbs. bone.

The schr Amanda Ayer, from Och osk brings 62,000 codfish.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 1.

A letter from Guaymas, dated October [illegible] confirms the reports of excesses committed by Liberals after the capture of Tanori and others. Gen Sangborg surrendered as a prisoner of war, but was shot from behind, and his body hung to a tree, and bonfires kindled under it.

Wheat firmer at 1,95 @ 1 90 lbs.

Steamer Pacific, from Columbia River, brings $229,000 in gold.

The amount of gold coined here at the branch mint during the past month, was [illegible]12,000.

A letter dated Victoria, Vancouver's Island, Oct. 22, says:

The whole commercial fabric is tottering, when the crash comes, it will be such as Vancouver's Island never experienced.

Mining stocks quiet.

NEW YORK, Nov. 1.

The dinner to Cyrus W. Field, by the Chamber of Commerce, takes place Thursday the 15th inst., at the Metropolitan Hotel.

BALTIMORE, Nov. 1.

Gov. Swann's decision is a lengthy document, covering some 30 pages of manuscript. The following are the main points:

The Governor says:—"I have duly considered the charges which have been preferred by certain citizens of Baltimore, who were denied the right to vote at the late municipal elections for mayor and members of the City Council, against police commissioners in connection with testimony submitted for my guidance in the case, and have arrived at the conclusions which I shall proceed briefly to state.

The refusal of the Police Commissioners, at the opening of this investigation, to appear before the Governor, upon his summons, to answer charges of misconduct in office, I look upon as an offense for which they might have been held responsible without any further inquiry into the evidence of official misconduct in the late election. It is true, that the commissioners, through their counsel, have, to some extent, retraced their steps, and announced their willingness to appear and answer any questions that the Governor might have to propound; but I do not understand that they have yielded the point of jurisdiction, to which they still adhere.

Their action in declining to respond to summons of the Governor places them in the attitude of the State officers made by the law subject to the direct supervision, treating with contempt the power specially delegated to him by the legislature, and the still higher power conferred by the 12th section of the 20th article of the Constitution to take care that the laws be faithfully executed.

How is the Governor, it may be asked, representing the sovereignty of State to discharge an impartial duty, imposed upon him by the organic law in conflict with rebellious officers, setting his authority at defiance and denying his right to hold them accountable for official misconduct, or a palpable violation to or neglect of their duties? The police law invests these commissioners with almost absolute power, fearful in its scope in the hands of designing men without a check somewhere to protect public interests. The legislature never intended any such thing. The State of Maryland is at this very moment threatened with invasion by armed hordes from other States. Military organizations have been formed in the city of Baltimore for the open and avowed purpose of resisting authority of laws. No single step, so far as I am informed, up to this time, has been taken by the police board to suppress this tendency to anarchy and rebellion now so threatening and to excite riot and bloodshed among our people.— It is well known that so far as the action of the Governor is concerned, no pretext has been furnished for these revolutionary proceedings. Is the Governor, to whom these officers are made directly responsible by law to rest quiet and see laws of State violated, public peace disturbed, the State invaded by armed revolutionists in complicity with those whom the police board are encouraging their apathy, and make no effort to protect dignity of State against insult and outrage.

But the legislature did not leave to implication this power of Police Commissioners in discharge of their official duties as State officers.

The Governor then proceeds to review the law governing his action, and proceeds to argue that the exclusion of newly registered voters at the last municipal election by the Judges, was a flagrant violation of their duties, and says:

The examination of the judges of election, all radical in their proclivities, with or two exceptions, produced a most unfavorable impression upon my mind as to their conduct in future, if continued in office, entertaining the intolerant view that loyalty is resident only with those who support their policy.

It is not a reasonable inference that they would claim in the absence of any instructions from the Police Commissioners, who refuse to interfere, to challenge the notes of all who don't come up to their standard. If they ignored the obligations of a second ballot box for rejected votes so plainly jointed out by the law, surely it would be no greater stretch of authority to go behind the registry and recognize whom they please as legal voters.

The Governor next reviews the registration law and the various decisions under it, and the election laws, and sums up as follows:

The evidence in the case proves beyond a doubt that the police commissioners have violated the law and rendered themselves liable to the charge of misconduct in office by creating, or permitting to grow up under their sanction and with their complicity, a violent partizan organization, treating all as disloyal who do not adopt the views of the radical party, by denying the right of the Governor to entertain jurisdiction of charges of official misconduct preferred against the commissioners; by appointing to the office of judges of election, special policemen and clerks exclusively from their own party, and in many instances incompetent, and in some of principles most disreputable characters, and denying appointments to any other class of our citizens; by delegating to the Marshal and officers under him the power to appoint special policemen, without themselves inquiring into the qualifications or moral standing of said officers, thus attempting to throw the responsibility of bad appointments, which they were ready to accept, upon their subordinates; by suffering the judges of election to throw aside the boxes for registered ballots, and giving them no advice as to their obligations under the law to use them, and refusing to remove them from office for so manifest a violation of duty.

The Governor concludes as follows:

The Governor of the State cannot shrink from his duty to the people. The threats of armed combinations at home, or of invasions from other States to overturn our laws could hardly be expected to deter him for a single moment from the unflinching exercise of all the functions with which he had been clothed. The people of the State of Maryland have been registered by Union men, not the less so because conservative in sentiment, and these voters, duly passed upon by the proper officers after a full examination into the qualifications, the constitutional oath administered to one and all, and their names entered upon the official registry as legal voters. They are adjudged to be so by our highest tribunals. They ask at the hands of the executive that they may not be excluded by powerful partizan combinations, under control of the police commissioners—not powerful in numbers, but because of authority which they have heretofore exercised under their commissions from the State, claiming that there is no loyalty but in the extreme radical party, and turning a deaf ear to the demands of any other class of our citizens.

In the discharge of my official duties in this case, I can know no party. I must see that the authority of the State is maintained in the interest of the whole people.

If the laws are objectionable, the Legislature which made them, and not the Governor, is responsible. He is the executive, and not the law-making power; he would bring disgrace upon the State, if he should do injustice to the humblest citizen. The appeals to returned veterans, by weak and thoughtless men, to raise the standard of rebellion against the constituted authorities of the State, cannot fail to meet the condemnation which it deserves, among all order-loving citizens, of whatever political party. They would be doing here, if they need such advice—which I am sure they will not—just what they have been fighting to rebuke in the rebellious States. The first shot fired upon the American flag in the hands of the recognized authorities of this State, besides subjecting them to the severest penalties of the law, would cause the laurels which they have won in the struggles of the past, to fade and wither in their hands. They will not, I am sure, permit themselves to be lured from their path of duty, as law-abiding citizens, by impulsive and reckless leaders, when they have the courts always open to their grievances. While to them I speak in language of friendly, admonishing and sincerest regard, I cannot characterize with too much indignation, intrusion into Maryland to intervene in her domestic affairs, of a well known revolutionist and agitator from an adjoining State, who, repudiated already by leading journals of the party with whom he is co-operating for this wicked attempt to excite bloodshed and provoke another civil war, has already retired from the field of his treasonable machinations, to secure himself from the contempt which his conduct has everywhere provoked.

He must not forget that the strong arm of the law is impending over him, and the State of Maryland will know how to protect herself at proper time against all such disturbers of the peace and safety of her people, impressed as I am with the utter demoralization of the police organization as it now stands. I shall do what I can to restore it to its proper relations with the State and law upon which it is founded. I have no desire to appeal to the general government for aid, to enable me to execute laws, and protect our citizens against threatened riot and bloodshed, unless impelled to take this step by further resistance of the Police Commissioners and their followers to the laws of the State. If that contingency should arise, the responsibility will be upon those who provide.

I stand upon the constitution and laws of State, and there will continue to stand until the trust, imposed upon me by the people of the State of Maryland, shall be delivered back into their hands, in spite of all threats of personal violence and the blustering efforts of intimidation which have already disgusted discreet and thinking men of the country. I can only say for myself that the remnant of life now half spent, would be purchased at too dear a cost in the high position which I occupy as Governor of the State of Maryland, by dishonor of my State and degredation of her people.

(Signed) THOS. SWANN,
Governor of Maryland.

BALTIMORE, Nov. 1.

The old Police Commissioners are in session with their counsel and advisers. It is not known definitely yet what they will do, but it is believed they will take some such course as the following:

Under the law which creates the Board of Commissioners, it is claimed they have most ample powers. They can in any emergency increase their force without limit, and call out the military if they deem it expedient. They can also summon the sheriff, who, with his posse, is made subject to their orders. They have assumed, it is understood, the ground—

First, That they are not guilty of official misconduct, and next, under the following clause in the new constitution of the State they maintain that as they are elected to office by the Legislature, the Governor has no power to remove them on the ground that the clause (below quoted) annuls and abrogates the provisions of the law under which the Governor acts, which was passed prior to the enactment of the new constitution. The clause in the new constitution referred to, is as follows:

Art 2d, Sect 17. The Governor may suspend, &c, and may remove for incompetency or misconduct all civil officers who received appointments from the Executive for a term not exceeding two years.

It is claimed that as the Commissioners are elected by the Legislature and not by the Governor, therefore the Governor cannot remove them.

On this ground, it is understood, the commissioners will go into court, and in the meantime they will resist, by lawful means, arrest and otherwise, all parties who may assume or attempt to exercise any of their functions or the functions of a police officer. If the U. S. troops come they will protest to the commander that they are simply exercising their lawful functions, and that they are not in either insurrection or rebellion, within the meaning of the clause in the Constitution of the United States in reference to that subject; but if the Government troops forcibly eject them from possession of the Commissioners' office, Marshal's office, Police stations, &c., they will submit, under protest, and await the decision of the Courts. They profess the greatest solicitude to avoid any collision with the General Government and to prevent a popular outbreak.

It is now said Mr. Ford is not to be commissioner, and that Geo. R Barry and Capt. Horn (before-mentioned) are to be appointed; but nothing positive is known yet.

NEW YORK, Nov. 1.

The New York, New Foundland and London Telegraph Company have decided upon several important improvements and new enterprises, in order to insure perfect telegraphic connections with the prominent commercial cities of United States and Europe. A new land line is to be constructed from Heart's Content to Placentia, in Newfoundland; from thence a new cable will be laid to St. Pierre, Mignelon, and from that island across to Sydney, Cape Briton, where it will connect with the present land line.

An entire new line will also be built from Heart's Content, N. F.; to Port Hood, C. B., where it will connect with present lines coming to the United States.

The present land line in Newfoundland, is to be entirely rebuilt of the best material, and great care will be taken that in connection of the two new lines above mentioned only the best workmanship and stock shall be employed. The two cables across the Gulf of St. Lawrence are and have been in excellent connection.

It will be seen by the above statement that the New York, Newfoundland and London Telegraph Company will soon have three distinct lines connected with the Atlantic Cable, which will leave no chance for accidents by severe weather preventing the United States from being daily and hourly in telegraphic communication with Europe.

BUFFALO, N. Y., Nov. 1.

Private despatches received here say the U S District Attorney, Dart, has been removed. His successor is not yet known.— He was very active in thwarting the late Fenian movement.

F N Blake, U S Consul, at Fort Erie, Col H G Thomas and Drs Trowbridge and Lathrop of Buffalo, left this afternoon, for Toronto to attend the Fenian trial as witnesses.

Mary J. Torsey, Libt., vs. John W. Torsey. Divorce decreed. Cause, adultery. Simpson.

FATAL INCIDENT OF THE GALE. We learned from the Belfast driver yesterday (and it was also stated in our telegraphic despatches) that Mr. Noah M. Gould, a respectable and prominent citizen of Lincolnville in Waldo county, was instantly killed during the gale of Tuesday, being struck on the head by a flying board which was wrenched from his barn by the fury of the storm. We learn also from the driver that such was the power of the gale on the shore of the bay, that the wheels of the heavily loaded coach were frequently lifted entirely free from the ground on one side, and that an extra weight of passengers and baggage alone prevented its being upset.

—A large lot of real estate and other valuable property is offered for sale by our fellow citizen, Mr. Walter K. Foster, who is about to change his business. This includes the entire stock of goods and store fixtures at the "Bangor Bazaar" on Main Street, also pianos, melodeons, organs, sewing machines, &c. Also houses and lots in various parts of the city. See advertisement.

—Steamer Katahdin, having lost one day on her recent trip, on account of the storm, leaves Bangor for Boston this morning (Friday) at 11 o'clock instead of yesterday.

—Prof. Fowler of New York, the celebrated phrenologist, will deliver a course of lectures in our city t. is month,—commencing on Monday evening, the 19th.

—The afternoon accommodation train to Waterville will leave this city at 1:30 p. m. on and after Monday, Nov. 5, and during the winter.

—Even the new match factory in Portland is to employ from 150 to 200 persons. Everything carries grist to the Portland mill.— When will Bangor have enterprise enough to start something besides lumbering? Our shipbuilders are doing well to be sure, but we need more development of manufacturing with the splendid water power at our doors.

THANKSGIVING. A despatch to the Times says that Gov. Cony has appointed Thursday, the 29th instant, as the day of annual Thanksgiving.

—The young men's weekly union prayer meeting will be held this (Friday) evening, in the Vestry of the Third Parish Church, French Street, at 8 o'clock. All young men are earnestly invited to attend.

—We are indebted to the Penobscot River Express for Boston papers of Wednesday evening, per steamer Katahdin, which arrived yesterday about one o'clock.

—We learn that Gen. Cushman yesterday sold a valuable Cotswold buck and an Oxfordshire ewe to Mr. Hersey of Stetson.

ORDINATION. Mr. Abiel H. Wright, a graduate of the Theological Seminary, 1866, was ordained in Winterport, Nov. 1st, as Pastor of the Congregational Church of Winterport and Frankfort.

Rev. W. Parker of Belfast, was Moderator of the Council, Rev. S. Baker of Orono Scribe.

The public exercises were:—

1. Voluntary.
2. Invocation and Reading Scriptures, Rev. S P. Fay, of Bangor.
3. Hymn.
4. Sermon, Rev. George W. Field, of Bangor.
5. Hymn.
6. Ordaining, Dr. Pond.
7. Charge to Pastor, Dr. Harris.
8. Right Hand of Fellowship, Rev. H. A. Shorey, of East Orrington.
9. Address to the People, Rev. W. Parker.
10. Prayer, Rev. S. Baker.
11. Anthem.
12. Benediction by the Pastor.

—An Ecclesiastical Council is called by the Hammond Street Church in this city, to be held on Thursday, Nov. 8, at 10 o'clock, a. m., in reference to the Installation of Rev. Solomon P. Fay, as their Pastor. The public services will probably be held in the afternoon of that day. Sermon by Rev. Alexander McKenzie, of Augusta.

—Mr. Perkins' recently established but excellent Family School for Boys at Gorham commences its Winter term on the 5th of December. See advertisement.

—The hotel at Lagrange, eighteen miles from Oldtown, is offered for sale, with 145 acres of land, by Mr. Harriman, the proprietor.

—A despatch from Portsmouth, N. H., on Wednesday states that there are nine vessels ashore in the lower harbor, five of which cannot be got off.

—The Belfast Age says that a strong effort is being made in that city to get up an association for instruction and improvement in vocal music the coming winter months. Prof. Pond, of Massachusetts, a thorough teacher of the art, has consented to take charge of such an institution.

—Mrs. Cora Hatch Leavitt, the well-known Spiritualist speaker, is a candidate for the Illinois State Legislature from Chicago. In a New York (city) district Mrs. Dr. E. C. Stanton offers herself as a candidate for Congress.

—The gale of Tuesday was so violent in Portland as to blow the very bark from the trees. But the Argus says the trees had previously been killed by the great fire.

—The Journal says, the Lewiston Mills, (manufacturing the seamless bags,) are kept running night and day, to supply the immense demand which comes from the whole country.

—The Portland Star suggests the good idea of using a part of the money sent for the relief of Portland, to building some tenement houses, so that many persons of moderate means can procure shelter.

—The Sherbrooke (C. E.) Gazette understands that Mr. Holyoke, with another gentleman from Portland, are making arrangements to put an extensive Saw Mill on the lot South East of the railroad bridge in Sherbrooke.

—The depot of the Maine Central Railroad at Waterville is being enlarged by an addition of about fifty feet to its length. By this extension (says the Press) the ladies' waiting room is considerably enlarged and a much needed private toilet room is added.— The business of the road at this place is largely on the increase, and has for some time demanded this improvement. When the addition is completed it will render this one of the most commodious depots in the State.

WATERVILLE COLLEGE. A correspondent of the Watchman and Reflector gives the following statistics of this institution:

"The number of graduates in the forty-five years since the first class in 1812, is 479, of whom 376 are still living. 110 of the graduates haue taken the degree of M. A., 7 that of LL. D., and 8 that of D. D. The last title has been conferred on four Waterville graduates by other colleges. About 150 of the graduates have been ordained ministers of the Gospel. One has been U. S. Senator, and two Representatiues in Congress. One is Judge of the Supreme Court in Maine, four have become Presidents of colleges, and 13 Professors.

—Tuesday morning a freight train on the Androscoggin railroad broke through a bridge about three miles beyond Livermore Falls. Several freight cars went through, piled up in inextricable confusion. The foundation of the bridge had been weakened by the freshet. Fortunately the engine and tender passed safely over. No lives were lost. The accident prevented the running of the afternoon train.—[Lewiston Jour.

—We learn from the Belfast Age that the First Methodist Society of Frankfort and Winterport has been expending some two thousand dollars on their church situate in Winterport village. It has been enlarged, the interior remodeled and in other respects improved. It will be re-opened on Wednesday, Nov. 7, at 10 o'clock a. m.—sermon by Rev. Mr. Church of Searsport.

A SINGULAR DISEASE. We copied a statement from the Argus a few days since, that Miss Mary Knights of Topsham, 13 years of age, had died of a peculiar disease. She would drink a large pailful of water during the night. Sometimes she would drop down going from school entirely helpless. Her blood changed to sugar. She was sick six months.

The Advertiser mentions another of the same nature. A young man also bearing the name of Knights, a resident of Lubec died with the same disease, after some fifteen months sickness. All the medicine that the attendant physician administered could not check the disease. It was found that the drinking of water aggravated the disease and as far as possible all fluids were kept from the patient. But his craving for water made this a hard matter.

It was the only case of the kind that ever occurred in that section, but his physician informed us that he had known several in other sections of the country. The best treatment for the disease is as far as possible, to live on dry boiled beefsteaks or mutton and bread, not allowing any more moisture to enter the patient's stomach than is really necessary to sustain nature. It is said that if this method is pursued when first taken the disease may be checked and a cure effected by the administering of other proper remedies. But while the free use of liquids are allowed medicine is of no use.

—The Belfast Age says William Sanborn, Esq., of Liberty, a week or two since, was thrown from his wagon and so severely injured that he died a few days since. He was passing a wagon in the evening, and the two came in collision, breaking the forward axletree of his wagon and throwing him out forward and he struck upon his head, nearly dislocating his neck. He was taken up insensible, and died as above stated. He was a prominent man of that town; had been a member of the Legislature, and held other places of prominence.

NICE YOUNG LADIES. The Brunswick Telegraph says:

Looking over, the other day, the annual announcement of a Southern school for young ladies, got out long before the war, we found the following curious item:

"Any young lady dipping snuff, or bringing snuff into the establishment, is liable to instant expulsion."

—The new depot of the Portland & Kennebec road at Augusta, soon to be completed is both convenient and ornamental as a public structure. Although necessarily narrow, on account of its location between the railroad track and a public highway, it has nevertheless all the necessary capacity, and is a handsome building, architecturally. It is two stories in height, of brick, with granite trimmings and columns. The lower story will be used for passenger waiting rooms, ticket office and necessary anterooms; the upper floor will be occupied by the offices of the Superintendent, Freight Agent and other officers of the road. The entire roadbed is being set over some fifteen feet to the west, thereby giving a street 40 feet in width between the passenger and freight depots and the brick blocks on Water street. The location of the present depot will be occupied by a large freight house.

—The Waterville Mail says that Mr. Geo. W. Athearn of that town, has sold his gelding horse, "Waterville," five years old, for fifteen hundred dollars, to Mr. Monroe of Boston. This horse has trotted his half mile in 1:19. Mr. Athearn has also sold a span of matched Drew horses to Mr. E. W. Swett of Portland, for five hundred dollars.

—Rev. Sylvanus Cobb, D. D., a distinguished Universalist divine, died in East Boston Wednesday morning. Dr. Cobb was born in Turner, Me. He studied for the ministry with Rev. Sebastian Streeter. He became pastor of the Universalist society at Malden thirty-eight years ago, remaining in that office ten years.

NEW COUNTERFEIT. There is a new counterfeit out on the Fifth National Bank of New York, of the denomination of $5. It made its first appearance at Bridgeport, Ct., last Friday. We are informed that this is the first attempt to utter counterfeit Fives on National Bank bills. The bill is somewhat blurred, but is calculated to deceive unless closely examined.

—John Mulliken, youngest son of Mr. Charles H. Mulliken, was drowned near the Dam in this city on Wednesday afternoon, Oct. 31. He was about eleven years of age. —[Augusta Journal.

STATE OF MAINE.

BY THE GOVERNOR.

A PROCLAMATION

FOR A DAY OF

PUBLIC THANKSGIVING AND PRAISE.

In obedience to that usage having its origin in a profound sense of obligation and gratitude to the All Wise Disposer of human events, and hallowed by the most cherished associations, I do, by the advice of the Executive Council, appoint Thursday, the Twenty-Ninth day of November next, to be observed by the citizens of this State as a day of Public Thanksgiving and Praise to Him for the blessings we have enjoyed during the year that is now hastening to its close.

The continuance of peace in our country while other nations have been afflicted with war; the exemption of our State from that fearful pestilence which has desolated other lands; the bountiful harvests which have crowned the labors of the husbandmen, furnishing ample supplies of food for our people, banishing even the apprehension of famine, the cries of which are heard coming up from remote portions of the earth, the great prosperity attending all the varied pursuits of life; the rapid recovery of our country from the wounds of a frightful civil war; the continuance of the blessings of education and the freedom of religious worship; and the manifest purpose of the people of this country under sore disappointment that manhood of every clime shall be recognized within its domain, and impartial justice assured to all, are pregnant causes for thanks and praise.

I therefore invite the citizens of this State to unite according to the customs of our fathers with prayer and anthem to commemorate the return of this festal day, remembering from their abundance the poor and distressed in our midst, to invoke the continuance of Divine Favor and the pardon of our transgressions through the grace of our Lord and Saviour.

Given at the Council Chamber at Augusta, this twenty-ninth day of October, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and sixty-six, and of the Independence of the United States of America the ninety first.

SAMUEL CONY.

By His Excellency the Governor:
EPHRAIM FLINT, Sec'y of State.

Four Years of Fighting

BOOK OF BATTLES:

A VOLUME of Narrative, Incident, and Personal Observation, with the Army and Navy, East, West, North, and South, from the first battle of Bull Run to the Fall of Richmond, by CHARLES CARLETON COFFIN,

"CARLETON,"

The Army Correspondent of the "Boston Journal," and author of "Winning his Way." "Following the Flag," "My Days and Nights on the Battle-Field," etc., beautifully illustrated, with a steel Engraving of the Author, in the highest style of art, by RITCHIE, and FULL-PAGE ILLUSTRATIONS.

His letters have given delight to millions of loyal hearts in our own land, and many of them have been republished in England, France, and Germany. His descriptions of battles are marked by clearness and vigor of comprehensive statement, a truthfulness and correctness which give them a high historic value.

The volume is wholly historic. In addition to the description of battles, incidents of marches, the camp, and the hospital, there is a chapter of exceeding interest, giving the secret history of the rebel cotton loan in England and France, from original documents which were obtained in Richmond.

This volume will be sold by subscription exclusively. It forms a handsome octavo volume of about 650 pages,—558 of reading matter,—printed on fine paper and in clear type. Price in leather, $4.50; cloth, $3.50.

The agent, J. W. WELLINGTON, will be at Bartlett's Book Store, corner of Exchange street and Kenduskeag Bridge, from 8 to 9 A. M., and 12 to 2 P. M., where copies of the work can be seen.

FOUR YEARS OF FIGHTING is sold wholly by authorized agents, and never put in the Book Stores. TICKNOR & FIELDS, Publishers.

FELLOWS' ORIGINAL

WORM LOZENGES.

WE can with confidence point to FELLOWS' WORM LOZENGES as the most perfect remedy for those troublesome pests,

INTESTINAL WORMS.

After years of careful experiment, success has crowned our efforts, and we now offer to the world a confection without a single fault, being safe, convenient, effectual and pleasant. No injurious result can occur, let them be used in whatever quantity. Not a particle of calomel enters their composition. They may be used without further preparation, and at any time. Children will eagerly devour all you give them, and ask for more. They never fail in expelling Worms from their dwelling-place, and they will always strengthen the weak and emaciated, even when he is not afflicted with worms.

Various remedies have, from time to time, been recommended, such as calomel, oil of wormseed, turpentine, &c., producing dangerous and sometimes fatal consequences. After much research, study and experiments, embracing several years, the proprietors of FELLOWS' WORM LOZENGES have succeeded in producing this remedy, free from all objections, and positively safe, pleasant and effectual. They do not kill the worms, but act by making their dwelling-place disagreeable to them. In order to assure consumers of the genuineness of these Lozenges, the analysis of DR. A. A. HAYES, State Assayer, is annexed:—

"I have analysed the WORM LOZENGES prepared by Messrs FELLOWS & CO., and find that they are free from mercury and other metalic or mineral matter. These Lozenges are skilfully compounded, pleasant to the taste, safe, yet sure and effectual in their action. Respectfully, A. A. HAYES, M. D. Assayer to the State of Mass."

Price 25 cents per Box; Five for $1.

Growing Old.

Touch us, oh Time! with light hand as you pass,
Tempt us to think [illegible] a loving caress;
Tread on our hearts, too, with reverent care—
Crush not the flowers of life blooming there;
Furrow our foreheads with care if you will,
But let youth linger within our hearts still.

'Mid our dark tresses are fibres of gray—
Silent reminders of life's fleeting day;
And when we turn to the shadowy past,
On its bright altars lay ashes and dust;
All its fair idols are marked with decay—
All its sweet pictures are faded away.

Sadly we look for the friends of the past—
They of strong heart and the beautiful trust;
Some we find sleeping 'neath sculptured stone;
Some toiling wearily onward alone;
Some through ambition grown heartless and cold,
But they are all, save the dead, growing old.

Oft we grow weary in watching in vain
O'er hopes that always but shadows remain;
Weary of counting the joys that have died;
Weary of laying bright visions aside;
Weary of taking but dross for pure gold;
Weary, so weary, of hearts growing old.

Chase from us, Time, all shadowy fears;
Lift from our lives the slow burden of years,
Shadow our foreheads and sprinkle our hair,
But oh, shield our hearts from the furrows of care,
Let not the heart grow selfish or cold,
And we shall no longer fear to grow old.

A WIDOW "YOUNG IN HER WEEDS."

BY SAXE.

Her shawl was as sable as night,
And her gloves were as dark as her shawl;
And her jewels—that flashed in the light—
Were as black as a funeral pall;
Her robe had the hue of the rest,
(How nicely it fitted her shape!)
And the grief that was heaving her breast
Boiled over in billows of crape!
I could'nt help thinking the beauty,
In mourning the loved and the lost,
Was doing her conjugal duty,
Altogether regardless of cost.

Prescott Dane's Honor.

'There is one thing that I prize above riches and positon, above all that the world has dear and to be desired to offer me.'

A clear, brave voice, touched all the way through with some feeling strong but repressed—just the sort of tone on which a soul in some flood-tide should mount into expression.

'What is that?' Another voice this time, not rough nor unkindly, and yet wholly lacking in enthusiasm and sympathy—just one of those voices, however, that carry a certain weight with them.

'My honor, Uncle Cameron; my honor.'

'Have I touched that, Prescott?' There was this time a little indignation in the voice, making a faint beat through the usual coldness of its tones—coldness which you felt did not belong to this occasion, but inhered in them, was a part of their quality.

The answer came now with some reluctance or doubt. 'I do not think you intended to do this.' Uncle Cameron, only the standard of business morality might not always seem the true one to me.'

A little hesitancy now that was almost apologetic. It seemed much like presumption for Prescott Dane to say to his uncle, a man twice his years; a man, too, of wide experience and prominent success in life, and who prided himself on saying that his word was his bond.'

'Well, Prescott,' said the rich broker, sweeping on one side a heap of papers, and settling his arms comfortably upon the top of his office desk, 'we won't go into the fine points of a discussion on that topic. When you get a little older and a little wiser, you'll come to see just as I and other men do on all these things.'

I'm willing to make some allowance for the fancies and fine-spun theories of youth, knowing well enough they can never stand the strain and wear and tear of life. We'll come to business now.'

A keen, shrewd man, as I said, in all his dealings with men. In his long business career he had sounded the faults, and weaknesses, and selfishnesses, and knew how to manage these for his own advantage. He saw with his usual penetration that any argument would only develop whatever of essential antagonism there might exist betwixt his own theories and his nephew's.

The best way to treat the young man's scruples lightly, and with a sort of good-humored contempt, as something that belonged to youth, and a certain crudeness of life and experience.

'Nothing told so effectually on youth as that,'

I suppose there is some hour when the devil comes to all of us to tempt us in some shape or another—in glory; in ambition, in wealth, or it may be taking the form of an angel, in that of love itself.

I think he came this hour to Prescott Dane—not in the gloom and silence of the awful wilderness, where his soul could wrestle through long, dark hours alone with the evil, but he came to Prescott Dane in the midst of the strong, deafening life of the vast city all around him, with its tumult at his ears and its strain at his heart—it came to him in an hour that he was not aware, in the face and voice of his uncle Drake Cameron as he sat there before his office desk with his thick iron-gray hair and the eyes underneath alert and bright as in their youth, though the face had grown old around them.

* * * * *

Drake Cameron laid here for the first time his plans before his nephew. He wished him to give up at once all thought of pursuing his professional studies, and enter upon a business career—a chance such as any young fellow in a million did not have to use the broker's words—a dazzling prospective of wealth, ease, luxury and splendor, as Prescott Dane saw opening along his future, the hopes and ambition of his youth all fired in new directions, and the shrewd old broker, who had dealt for many years with men that he knew just where their weaknesses lay and how to reach whatever was strongest, whether it was of good or evil, in the heart of his kind, watched and weighed carefully the effect of each word on the fine, susceptible nature he had to deal with.

A rare prospect truly, for a young man, and Drake Cameron was honest here, holding out no hopes that he did not intend to fulfil.

He had made up his mind to take his nephew into his house as silent partner after a year or two in its service on the part of the young man.

'It will take you that time to learn the ropes my boy,' said Drake Cameron. 'There's a good deal of travelling to do for the house in these new speculations that we've gone into amongst us pretty deeply, and I'm getting rather too stout and my bones are growing stiff for much moving about. That's the kind of work a young man always takes to kindly. You'll see something of the world, too, while you are learning how to manage the business; and so here's a big fortune right at your door, Prescott, and you've only to say that you'll take it!'

He would have been more or less than man who had not accepted this offer, and doing it, Prescott Dane kept faith with himself still. There was no harm in the pledge he gave, and he went out from his uncle's office into the clamoring streets with his heart throbbing and his brain dizzy, and the old student dreams that always had for their background, the quiet groves at Athens, and the beautiful Greek youth wandering among them—the old scholar-dreams that had fed and ravished his soul—all given to the winds now. * * * * *

'Struck the trail this time, Dane! Specimens turn out splendidly. Mine will pay to work without delay, and the land can be bought for an old song. Woman over here owns it—a widow. Glad to sell on any terms. No idea what a fortune's laid up in those few acres of pasture! Lucky hit for us this time!'

The man rubbed his hands together in a brisk sort of fashion that indicated immense self-congratulation, a small, alert man in the very finest of broadcloth, and with a very thin polish of politeness in speech and manner, through which the innate vulgarity constantly discovered itself to a finer nature.

The parlor of a country tavern—a small dark room, with a lingering chill and dampness clinging to it, was the scene where this conversation occurred. Prescott Dane had been for three months in the society of his present companion—a man who had had a variety of experience as speculator in the territories, and who had been sent out by the house of which Drake Cameron was partner to examine some lands in the southern part of Pennsylvania, where there was more or less mineral wealth.

A couple of days previous, the travellers had been overtaken by a severe storm, while their stage was endeavoring to make a junction with the evening train.

Prescott Dane and his companion stopped at the country tavern for the night. In the morning the latter went out to survey the country in that vicinity, and something in the character of the soil attracted his attention. A careful inspection followed, which resulted in the discovery of a copper mine near a creek in some very unpromising pasture land.

Prescott Dane's companion had managed the whole matter with his usual acuteness. Confiding at the start, his knowledge to no one, he had obtained an interview with the owner of the land in which the copper mine lay, and satisfied himself that she had no suspicion of the latent fortune in her possession, and that she was ready to close a bargain with him on his own terms. So the matter stood when the facts were first disclosed to Prescott Dane.

"We'll step over there sometime this morning, and get the bargain fixed up snug. Nothing like taking time by the forelock in matters of this sort!" and Prescott's companion stepped to the fire, and rubbed his hands before a small flame, with the air of a man who had immense confidence in his own shrewdness. "Let the facts once leap out, and the land would go up to fifty thousand before night! Wouldn't take twice that sum in hard dollars the hour after it gets into my possession, sir!"

"But if it is the big thing you think, hadn't we better offer the woman a good price for her land? It doesn't seem quite fair to take such advantage of her ignorance and helplessness," subjoined Prescott Dane, a little doubtfully.

His companion turned and surveyed him a moment with an expression in whose amusement lurked a little good-natured pity.

"That isn't the way to do business, my young friend," he answered. "When you get to be a little older you'll see that every man must feather his own nest when he gets a chance," this last remark being delivered with an air of immense consciousness of superiority.

There was some sensitive fibres in the soul of Prescott Dane, into which these words struck sharply. He wondered at the life that stirred in them after his associations of the last three months.

An hour later, the young man and the middle aged one stood together in a small cottage parlor—a pleasant little room, with a sort of better days air in the faded furniture; and a faint lingering breath of summer in the autumn flowers that made a glow of gold and crimson on the mantel.

(To be concluded.)

EXPLOSION OF SHELLS. A few days since a bombshell exploded in some hydraulic works in Brooklyn, breaking the arm and otherwise severely injuring the limbs of the workman who was engaged in breaking it up. Explosions and accidents of this nature are becoming far too common, nor is it over-stating the case when it is said that scarcely a fortnight has elapsed since the war in which similar catastrophes have not occured. The shell in question was brought from Richmond, along with a lot of old iron, and it was evidently supposed that the length of time which had elapsed since its manufacture, and the rusty condition in which it was found, precluded the possibility of its explosion. This, however, by no means follows. Some twenty years ago a relic of the old French war was picked up at Lake George, which spoke loudly for itself and told emphatically what it was made for. This was a bombshell, which was found in the lake, near the shore, under Fort William Henry, and which was in all probability discharged at the fort at the time that the Marquis de Montcalm besieged it in 1758. This shell must, therefore, have lain at the bottom of the lake about eighty years. Those who found it undertook the fool-hardy experiment of testing its efficiency, and applied a fuse to it. To their astonishment it exploded, and a piece of it passed through the side of the Lake House (which is of wood) and lodged in an attic chamber.

YANKEE IRREVERENCE. George Alfred Townsend, who is writing admirable letters from Europe to the New York World, gives the following racy sketches of an English steamer scene:

Three weeks ago I took passage for Havre on a channel steamboat. As I went into the cabin to select my berth, I found that all the places, some twenty in number, were engaged for the Duke of Beaufort.

"His Grace is to give us the honor of his presence, to-night," said the steward, with suppressed and almost awed articulation.

I recalled this Duke as the staunch conservative who recently advised the Admiralty to build no more monitors, because they were Yankee inventions.

He came along in the special cars about one o'clock, the boat being detained an hour and a half for his benefit, whereby all the passengers missed the noon train for Paris, and arrived eight hours behind the company's time.

He was associated with a lot of young fellows, averaging 28 years perhaps, overbearing, wall faced, bullying men who followed the steward around—he bowing, abased, dumb-stricken—demanding the vessel to be turned inside out for their accommodation and because they had three folks more than they bargained for in their party, they actually took the pillows and cushions away from three astonished Frenchmen, who had paid their full fare; and they then secured the places.

You should have heard a Yankee engineer on board discharging one of the commandments when this party approached his berth!

'Get out of that, by the dodds odds! or I will shy my pocket-knife and boots at yo. I'm uone of your tribe. Sleep with the steward. Sleep on deck. Go overboard. Go to h—. But cl-a-a-r out of here!'

The horror awakened by this man was like that surrounding some criminal. 'During all the night he awoke, saying, 'Duke! h— well! He be doked! He be darned! You can't come nothin' on me.'

JAPANESE CIVILITIES AND CURIOSITY. A private letter from Japan reports that Prince Statsuma is exceedingly civil to foreigners. The officers of the British war ship Princess Royal have received from him profuse gifts of pigs, poultry, and fruit, but when any of the crew go ashore they are obliged to be protected by a strong guard of the Prince's troops from the troublesome curiosity of thousands of the populace who follow the English about the streets of Kagosima.

Something remarkable occured in Buffalo on Saturday. A man slightly intoxicated, dropped $2,000 in bills out of his pocket, while staggering along the street. They were immediately picked up by an honest man, and returned to the owner.

An immense aquarium is being constructed for the French Exhibition, having a front of one hundred feet. Sharks, porpoises, and every variety of fish are to be therein collected for the amusement of the people.

John McKiel of Cold Spring, N.Y., beat John McReady of New York, and Gilbert Ward, of Cornwall, N. Y., in a five mile rowing match at Poughkeepsie, N. Y., on Tuesday. His time was 37:35.

Mr. Peabody is now probably worth $10,000,000, or $15,000,000, for the increase of his property during the past six years has been considerable.

A mammoth casting was made at the foundry of the Charleston Navy Yard, Boston, on Thursday; it was a part, about one half, of the bed of a planer, which is to weigh between one hundred and eighty-five and one hundred and ninety-five tons. In the planer a piece of iron twenty feet long and as many wide can be smoothed.

One wagon of a powder train, containing five thousand pounds of powder, blew up near Green River, Utah, on the 12th ult. A hub was the largest piece of wood found after the explosion, and three of the five yoke of oxen attached were torn into small bits, and only one foot, a joint of a finger, and a piece of the skull of the driver remained.

George Peabody has given the munificent sum of $1,000,000 to religious and educational institutions since his arrival in this country.

THE
BEST COOKING STOVE,
IN THE MARKET.
"PEERLESS," FOR COAL OR WOOD.
THE "PEERLESS" has all the advantages of the popular stoves in use, together with such NEW FEATURES as justify the manufacturers in calling it the BEST COOKING STOVE in the market.
It is the "PEERLESS," because it is superior to all other Cooking Stoves in Economy, Simplicity, Cleanliness, Baking, Roasting and Beauty.
1st, ECONOMY. A patented method of heating the air and conveying it through the oven, saves from twenty to thirty per cent. of fuel.
2d, SIMPLICITY. It is easily managed. The fire can be perfectly controlled, and kept through an entire season without rekindling.
3d, CLEANLINESS. No dust escapes while shaking or dumping the grate.
4th, BAKING. Its large oven, wherein all parts are of equal temperature, bakes as evenly as a brick oven, and that without turning the article. It bakes quickly. It will bake upon the oven rack quickly, evenly and well at the same time the oven bottom is fully employed in baking or roasting.
5th, ROASTING. A current of hot air constantly passing through the oven, so thoroughly ventilates it, that it roasts as well as a tin kitchen.
6th, BEAUTY. Made of the best iron, it will not crack. Well mounted, artistically designed and smoothly cast, it is the most beautiful as well as the most serviceable stove in the market.
Each stove is WARRANTED to be and to do all that is claimed for it.

SNOW POWDER
Patented May 29, 1866.
This is an article for washing without rubbing, except in very dirty places, which will require a very slight rub, and unlike other preparations offered for a like purpose, WILL NOT ROT THE CLOTHES, but will leave them much WHITER than ordinary methods, without the usual wear and tear.
It removes grease spots as if by magic, and softens the dirt by soaking, so that rinsing will in ordinary cases entirely remove it.
This powder is prepared in accordance with chemical science, and upon a process peculiar to itself, which is secured by Letters Patent. It has been in use for more than a year, and has proved itself an universal favorite wherever it has been used.—Among the advantages claimed are the following, viz:—
It saves all the expense of soap usually used on cotton and linen goods.
It saves most of the labor of rubbing, and wear and tear.
Also, for cleaning windows it is unsurpassed.—With one quarter the time and labor usually required it imparts a beautiful gloss and lustre, much superior to any other mode. No water required except to moisten the powder.
Directions with each package.
And can be readily appreciated by a single trial. The cost of washing for a family of five or six persons will not exceed THREE CENTS.
The manufacturers of this powder are aware that many useless compounds have been introduced to the public which have rotted the cloth, or failed in removing the dirt, but knowing the intrinsic excellence of this article, they confidently proclaim it as being adapted to meet a demand which has long existed, and which has heretofore remained unsupplied.

Special Notice
To Soldiers and Seamen!!
The Law Has Passed!
Bounties Equalized.
Justice Done the Early Soldiers and Seamen of the War, their Widows and Heirs.
NOTICE has been sent me from Washington, that the Law equalizing the bounty to Soldiers and Seaman was passed Saturday last, July 28th, by Congress.
I am now authorized and prepared to collect this Bounty for every Soldier and Seaman entitled, also for their Widows and Heirs.
Application made personally at my office, or by mail,—the discharge of the Soldier or Seaman should be handed in—as it must be forwarded with the application.
All applications must be made signed, witnessed and sworn to, AFTER THE PASSAGE OF THIS LAW. Many soldiers have been induced to sign papers before the law passed. This practice is irregular, fraudulent and void, and papers in all such cases must be made over.

American & Foreign Patents.
R. H. EDDY,
SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,
Late Agent of the U. S. Patent Office, Washington, under the Act of 1837.
No. 78 State Street, (opposite Kilby street,) Boston.
AFTER an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Bonds, Assignments, and all papers or drawings for Patents, executed on reasonable terms, with dispatch. Researches made into American and Foreign works, to determine the validity and utility of Patents of Inventions, and legal and other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any patent furnished by remitting one dollar. Assignments recorded in Washington.
No Agency in the United States possesses superior facilities for obtaining Patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions.
During eight months the subscriber, in the course of his large practice, made on twice rejected applications SIXTEEN APPEALS; every one of which was decided in his favor by the Commissioner of Patents.
TESTIMONIALS.
"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHAS. MASON, Commissioner of Patents.
"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they can not employ a man more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.
EDMUND BURKE," Late Commissioner of Patents.
"Mr. R. H. EDDY has made for me THIRTEEN applications, in all but ONE of which patents have been granted, and that one is now pending. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges. JOHN TAGHART."

THE
BEST VEGETABLE HAIR RESTORATIVE.
Is creating a sensation among the friends of those who have had their grey hair restored to its youthful color, and those whose bald heads have been covered with a luxuriant growth of hair. Their changes and improves their looks that intimate acquaintances scarcely recognize each other. For sale by druggists, of whom circulars can be obtained containing testimony to prove what we have intimated.
Home Proof.
MR. BARRETT:
DEAR SIR,—Having used a bottle of your "VEGETABLE HAIR RESTORATIVE" after having tried many other kinds without success, I am happy to accord to it the ne plus ultra of ALL Hair Preparations in the world, and do myself sincerely and cheerfully recommend it to the public as such.
Yours, &c., JOHN FRANKLIN, No. 6 Tremont street, Boston.
Testimony from Abroad.
Messrs. J. R. BARRETT & Co.:
I was induced by a friend to make a trial of BARRETT'S VEGETABLE HAIR RESTORATIVE, and I am very much pleased with the effect it has had on my hair. I was nearly half gray, and now, before using one bottle, my head is freed from dandruff, and my hair has all the appearance of youth. I fully believe BARRETT'S to be the best Hair Preparation in the world. WM. HAMILTON.
